Guilty plea - Humphrey given life sentence

Chief Justice Gregory Evans of the Supreme Court of Ontario sentenced Kevin Joseph Humphrey to a term of life imprisonment in County Court last Friday.

Humphrey was convicted of the murder of Charles Palmer which took place at the Palmer family cottage on Bob Lake last May. Humphrey surrendered to police at the Toronto International Airport after a massive manhunt was launched by the Ontario Provincial Police.

Humphrey returned voluntarily from Florida after fleeing to the United States, in Palmer's car.

After his arrest he informed police that he had shot Palmer during an argument. He also admitted that he had intended to kill Palmer when he fired the second fatal shot and that he had been under the influence of drugs when he committed the murder. Humphrey entered a plea of guilty to the charge of second degree murder.

In passing sentence in court in Lindsay, Chief Justice Evans told Humphrey that "it is a great tragedy that we have to sentence you to a term of life imprisonment."

The Chief Justice commented further that the sentence of ten years, was "a proper, although lenient, sentence" and that he had taken into consideration the fact that the defendant was only 18 years old when he committed the crime.

The Crown accepted the sentence of life imprisonment without eligibility for parole for ten years followed by probation.

Under the terms of the probation, Humphrey cannot be in possession of weapons or explosives for the rest of his life.

Council hears pros and cons on bridge

Letters expressing opinions for and against the proposed bridge at Ingoldsby have been received by the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council. The council had suggested that residents of the area make their feelings known on the future of the structure since a decision as to whether it will be rebuilt or repaired is expected to be taken shortly by the county road committee.

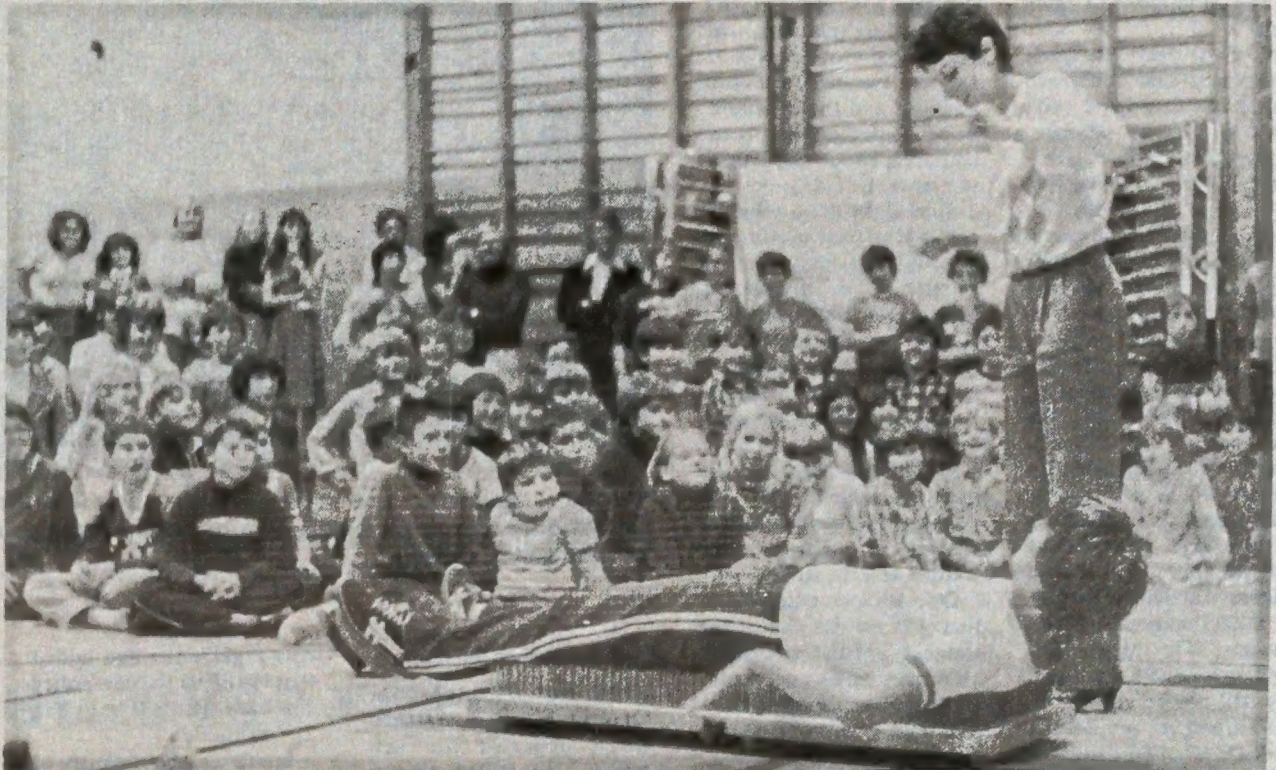

The committee had decided a number of years ago to replace the structure but objections were raised by several residents, particularly those concerned with the clearance under the bridge for boats and what impact a two lane bridge will have on the amount and speed of traffic travelling through the community.

The road committee is re-examining that decision in light of the protests and the revised costs of upgrading the structure.

The council did receive a number of letters including one with a petition prepared earlier this year. A count by the clerk indicated there were 86 signatures favouring a new bridge and only four opposed to the structure. It was noted that the petition had been circulated in response to an expropriation hearing which took place in February.

The council agreed to forward all correspondence received to the county roads committee for their consideration and requested the committee be requested to report back to the council, residents of Ingoldsby and the Lake Kashagawigamog and Canning Lake property owners associations.

Arena rental fee paid for Society

The cost of the rental of the Minden arena by the Agricultural Society for the annual Fall Fair will be covered by the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden. The decision to pick up the $908.40 tab was taken at the October 27 meeting of the council.

The meeting was addressed by Society President Wayne Cox. He told the councillors that he had addressed the group earlier this year when plans for the washrooms at the fairgrounds were being discussed. "At that time I came away with the understanding that the Fair was considered to be a community festival and as such the municipality would be responsible for the arena rental," Cox explained.

After checking the minutes of the meeting which took place in March Reeve Lyle McKnight agreed that the council was asked to donate the rental portion of the arena. However, the minutes do not indicate if the council agreed to take that step.

Two other organizations in the community have free use of the arena centre during what is termed "community festivals". They are the Minden Rotary Club for the summer carnival and the Minden Kinsmen Club for the winter carnival.

After a lengthy discussion, the council agreed to forego the rent.

The Agricultural Society representative also agreed that his group would be willing to pay their portion of the installation charges for the new sewer and water hook-up to the outdoor washrooms constructed at the fairground.

At the urging of Councillor Gary Kenney, the council also endorsed a resolution calling on representatives of the council and the society to meet to discuss funding procedures for future fairs.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, who described the motion as superfluous, voted against it.

Flood policy report endorsed

A review of flood plain policies in Ontario prepared by Councillors Gary Kenney and Dave Stevens has been adopted as municipal policy. The concurrence was given at the October 27 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden township council.

Details of the assessment were contained in a report in last week's edition of The Times. The councillors took issue with a number of assumptions contained in the provincial report. In particular they were concerned that general policies were being applied in specific circumstances without regard to local conditions.

Kenney told the meeting that a number of other municipalities appearing at the Flood Plain Policies Review Committee hearings a week earlier in Lindsay had expressed concerns similar to those of this municipality.

Reeve Lyle McKnight commended the councillors for attending the meeting and for preparing the report. He said it reflected the feelings of the council and felt it should be forwarded to the committee.

It was noted that even though the municipality was unable to present its comments at a meeting of the committee, the report would still be taken into consideration when the group considers all the findings.

Special squad monitors roads

Enforcement of Highway Traffic Act regulations, especially those involving speed, alcohol and seat belt use, will be receiving extra attention this month in Haliburton County.

According to the local detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, a special team of four officers will be visiting this area during November, concentrating on these three regulatory areas. They will be using radar detectors for measuring the speed of vehicles, checking drivers with the portable breathalyzers ALERT, for consumption of alcohol, and ensuring drivers and passengers are wearing seat belts.

According to a police spokesman, the special squad will be operating on a flexible schedule which means they could be in action day or night.

The purpose of the program is to reduce accidents and accident related injuries.

Trappers express concern over policy

"You are taking away my livelihood".

This comment from a Wilberforce area trapper was one of the many criticisms aired at a trappers meeting held last Thursday at the Haliburton Legion Hall.

Over seventy trappers, landowners and concerned citizens attended the meeting which was sponsored by the County of Haliburton. The public meeting was held to discuss the new private lands fur management program proposed for implementation by the Ministry of Natural Resources beginning next year.

Eric Mitchell, Minden District wildlife manager, explained that under the new policy the Minden District will be divided into 4 units which will correspond to each game warden's territory. He pointed out that the policy affects only resident trappers who trap on other than their own property. The number of trappers will be limited and they will not be allowed to trap beyond the boundaries of the area they are assigned.

The policy has been implemented in other districts because of conflicts between trappers in "overcrowded" areas and because of the possibility of over-trapping.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey questioned the need for the new policy since the number of trappers in this district is decreasing. Mitchell explained that "more and more people are taking fur-management courses" and that a number of people from Toronto had enquired about trapping in this area.

One of the main concerns of those present at the meeting was expressed by Sherborne et al Deputy Reeve Don Shortreed who stated that the new policy was "an infringement on the landowner because he has no preference to who traps on his land".

A landowner at the meeting added that the policy will "infringe on the charter of rights of the trapper and the landowner."

One trapper pointed out that "Ontario has the toughest regulations of all provinces" and was concerned that even tougher rules would lead to "over-regulation".

Another area resident expressed the concern that "this concept could be applied to other formats"

Trappers, landowners and interested citizens attended a meeting Thursday evening to express their concerns over the Ministry of Natural Resources proposed trapping policy for the Minden District. The meeting was sponsored by Haliburton County.

such as logging and hunting.

Bill Watt, director of the Ontario Trappers Association, supported the new policy. He stated that a committee set up by the O.T.A. has worked with the Ministry to help set up the new regulations and added that the effect the new policy will have "will not be as bad as you think".

However, the majority of the people at the meeting were in agreement with one trapper's comment that "We know this system works but we don't know what will happen in the future".

Dave Atkinson, Fish and Wildlife Supervisor for the Minden District commented that the Ministry wants to know what people's concerns are and will relay them to the head office.

Warden Bill Howe, chairman of the meeting, told the gathering that a report on the meeting would be presented at the next County Council meeting adding, "rest assured, it's not going to stop here".

Bright future predicted for county

Haliburton County is facing a bright future according to panelists addressing the morning session of the Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday. This promising outlook, based on increased tourism, decentralization of the workforce brought about by computers and increased leisure time, was tempered somewhat by the suggestion that this county is not receiving its share of provincial support funding and the need for a county-wide official plan.

Moderator Bob Stinson opened the discussion by recommending Alvin Toffler's book "The Third Wave", that deals with the technological revolution taking place in society today.

The moderator emphasized that a whole generation will live through this revolution and commented that "we get a false sense of security" living in this area away from the mainstream but that "the world does affect us even though we can't see it".

He then dealt with more specific aspects of this "third wave" pointing out that the use of computers make it possible for people to live year round in this area with infrequent trips to their offices in the city.

He added that we should consider what these people will need in terms of materials and services and that it may be possible to set up a computer related industry in the county.

Stinson ended his remarks by offering the opinion that "our political leaders aren't talking in terms of the third wave".

Mike Walker from the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation elaborated on the idea of changes in society by pointing out that there will be a massive growth in the tourism industry due to early retirement, a shorter work week, increasing incomes and increased mobility. He commented further that it is predicted "tourism will be the largest single industry by the year 2000."

He added that tourism which is "not dependent on a diminishing resource" is a "permanent integral activity" and that Haliburton has a "very desirable product".

Mr. Walker's speech was followed by a presentation by Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Gary Kenney who stated that "we have the care and stewardship of the province's backyard". He expressed the opinion that "we are not getting the representation we need" and went on to cite provincial government figures which show that Haliburton receives the lowest number of dollars in government grants of all the counties in the province and that the Capital Fund Revenues for new development was also the lowest.

Kenney added that we spend nothing on planning and development through Capital Fund expenditures which results in no debt load at all but means no commitment.

Ken Langdon, a local retailer then spoke on changes within the retail trade. He forecast that "retail volumes will more than double within the next ten years" and that "reliance on traditional markets will be impossible". He also predicted a large growth in the "do it yourself" market and the necessity for specialized resorts. He expressed the opinion that "we don't need alot of handouts" and that if the government builds better highways to the county we will take care of the tourists.

Langdon added "we need an official plan" because if rules and regulations are not clearly stated, people may not buy homes and property in the area.

During a question and answer period that followed

Councillor Kenney further emphasized the need for an official plan and "some very aggressive lobbying".

A member of the audience commented that there is "so much here other than tourism" and in referring to the lack of planning and development expenditures expressed the opinion that "no debt means we are standing still".

The panel discussion was followed by a seminar presented by Professor David Blenkhorn that dealt with the management techniques of the Japanese and the emphasis they place on quality.

Professor Blenkhorn presented statistics which showed that the "high-quality" company had the best productivity and less after sales service. In referring to North American business he stated that "we aren't even close to the Japanese attitude" regarding quality control.

Making further comparisons the professor pointed out that the Japanese place much more emphasis on decisions made from "the shop floor up" and the need for consensus throughout the organization.

He noted also the belief in mutual prosperity and trust within the company and throughout the entire system was in direct contrast with western attitudes.

Another difference between the two cultures was that the Japanese take much longer to make serious business decisions and because western businessmen want things done immediately "we are too impatient in dealing with Japanese industry".

The professor summed up his seminar by pointing out that in order to improve our system we must educate and train the work force, set targets for quality improvement and demonstrate an interest and commitment on all levels.

As he emphasized previously, although the Japanese culture is different from ours, their techniques, which have proven so successful in the world market, can be utilized in North America.

Remembrance Week November 5-11

The Dominion President of the Royal Canadian Legion has proclaimed November 5 to 11, 1983 as Remembrance Week.

Members of Branch 129 Royal Canadian Legion, Haliburton will be starting to canvass businesses in the area immediately for the sale of wreaths and crosses to display in their windows for Remembrance Week.

The annual poppy campaign will begin on Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5 when members of the Legion and Ladies Auxillary will be on the streets selling poppies.

The annual distribution of poppies and wreaths is the Canadian Legion's only national appeal for funds, which are held in trust in a separate account.

Branch Poppy Trust Funds are reservoirs from which emergency assistance can be given to needy veterans, their dependants and the widows and children of deceased ex-servicemen. Last year, $3,731.55 was spent in this area.

The poppy fund is the Canadian Legion's way of remembering the debt which all of us owe to those who sacrificed so much. It is the Canadian Legion's belief that Canadians appreciate the opportunity of contributing in a small way to the payment of this debt.

In addition to the act of remembrance, contributions to the poppy fund are tangible expressions of thanks to the men who died and to those who have been left disabled.

Eakins concerned over roads

The state of disrepair of Ontario roads has prompted Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins to raise the matter in the Provincial Legislature. Questioning the Ontario Minister of Transportation and Communications, James Snow, Eakins described the situation as "critical."

Mr. Eakins pointed out that according to the Ministry's own standards, the provincial government's reduction in road system funding has resulted in 28 per cent of all municipal roads and streets in Ontario being deemed deficient. He pointed to examples such as in the District of Muskoka, where 51.4 per cent of the roads are deficient, and in the County of Hastings where 42.4 per cent of the roads are deficient.

"In my own riding of Victoria-Haliburton, the situation is especially appalling, where in the County of Victoria 42.9 per cent of the roads are deficient and need to be reconstructed, and in the next five years that figure will climb to 47.9 per cent. In Haliburton County, 43 per cent of the roads need a combination of resurfacing and reconstruction."

Municipalities need emergency assistance now in order to rectify this state of affairs, according to Mr. Eakins, who added, "If the current trend of underfunding continues, the cost to rehabilitate the road system in Ontario will be beyond our reach.

"The impact of a good road system on development, industrial expansion, job creation and tourism cannot be overemphasized. The government's underfunding, as the Ontario Good Roads Association pointed out in a recent brief to Cabinet, is the most counter-productive policy that the government could adopt."

Correction

In a report on the Ingoldsby Bridge reconstruction controversy (October 19), we quoted a letter sent to Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council by a Robert Minto. Inadvertently a word vital to the meaning of one of the quotations was incorrect. The correct quotation should read, as presented in paragraph four of the page one article: "Once the bridge is in place we will be stuck with it. We have no alternative but to stop its being constructed until we are assured it will be no lower than the existing bridge," his letter concluded.

The word 'longer' had been used instead of the word 'lower' as in the correct quotation above. We apologise for this misprint.

A brighter future

It seems it is always human nature to emphasize the negative, so it was refreshing to hear a group of panelists look ahead to a brighter future for Haliburton County. The panel was part of the morning session of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce annual meeting October 19. It was unfortunate that more members of the business community and the municipal leaders (who were attending their regular County Council meeting) couldn't have been in attendance to absorb some of this positive outlook.

The panelists foresaw economic growth in Haliburton County for a number of reasons. The changing technology of work, allowing an employee to be connected to his place of work, or head office, by computer link, will allow a degree of decentralization which will permit more people to live in the Highlands while working, via computer link, in the city. It may not happen tomorrow, but it is a trend that is increasing.

As well, technology will help reduce the work week for many people, giving them increased leisure time. Many of these individuals will be reaching for recreational opportunities similar to those available in the Highlands. The increased leisure will allow greater use of cottages as well as encouraging those who do not have property here to invest in the area or relax at one of the area's many resorts.

The prognostications bode well for the future of the area. It is unlikely these changes will be immediate and massive. However, if this impact is felt over a longer period of time, the area will be able to absorb the growth in an orderly and efficient manner ensuring the changes will not spoil the attractions this area has to offer.

The long range outlook for this area, according to those on the panel, is a positive one. Investors, merchants, residents and visitors, should welcome this encouraging assessment of our future.

Dressed for Hallowe'en

Our most important resource

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Last week, my leader, my colleagues and I announced a major program to provide up to one year's work experience at the basic minimum wage to long-term unemployed youth in Ontario.

Calling lingering youth unemployment one of the most serious problems confronting Ontario, Mr. Peterson said there is an urgent need to provide work for the thousands of jobless 18 to 24 years old. Educational upgrading and career/employment counselling is part of our program.

Statistics and charts well document the continuing plight of Ontario's unemployed youth. However, statistics cannot measure the despair of those who cannot get a job because they have no job experience. Nor can statistics measure the desperation of those who do not know how or when to begin to look for work, or unfortunately, the frustration of those who have difficulty even filling out a job application form. This is a generation losing confidence in themselves and lacking hope for the future.

The youth of Ontario need jobs. They need the experience and the self-confidence that come from working. They also need to invest in themselves, through increased educational effort and life skills development.

The program we are announcing would give them that opportunity. This program offers youth an experience which no other provincial or federal program currently provides.

Our youth program would give a guaranteed opportunity for a work experience of up to one year to every youth, 18 to 24 years of age, who has been unemployed for 20 weeks or more.

However, this is not just a job creation program. Participants would be required to enrol in education courses, at levels commensurate with their needs. In addition, participants would be required to take part in employment counselling services to familiarize them with job search techniques and proper job performance habits. Such counselling would also help them seek further employment opportunities, or as the case may be, further educational or skills training possibilities.

The best estimates of the costs of such a program are $90 to $110 million, servicing approximately 14,000 youth each year. It is not possible, in advance, to accurately put a dollar figure to the benefits of such a program. However, experience with these types of programs uniformly show that benefits outweigh the direct cost, on the basis of the goods and services produced, the unemployment insurance and welfare payments saved, increased motivation among youth to seek skills upgrading (the eventual result being a better skilled and more employable work force), reduced crime rates, reduced alcohol and drug abuse, increased tax revenue from a working, previously unemployed sector. Actual estimates of benefits per dollar generated from other programs range from $1.65 for the California Conservation Corps, between $1.05 and $3.13 for the United States Job Corps, and up to $6.40 to $7.80 for the Canada Manpower Training Program (not youth specific) in 1970 - 73.

In sum, our program would offer real benefits to youth and to the province as a whole. We can guarantee for youth a positive employment and educational opportunity and for the province, productive social gains.

Ontario's most important natural resource is our youth. We're prepared to give them the right chance.

As I gathered the last ripe tomatoes from my garden some days ago, I couldn't help thinking how pleasant the onset of winter might be if only I could enclose the entire backyard in a greenhouse. As luck would have it, the next morning's paper brought news that my wish may be granted -- in a manner of speaking. Instead of a genuine greenhouse it promised something called the "greenhouse effect".

Actually it's no laughing matter. Nothing less than a dramatic change in global climate is on its way, it seems. The greenhouse effect refers to the prediction that the earth will become warmer as carbon dioxide gas, released from worldwide fossil fuel combustion, builds up in the atmosphere where it traps the sun's heat

Empty words... dangerous words

Editor:

Three things disturb me about debate last week on a question of support by County Council for world wide nuclear disarmament.

Conventional wisdom seems to dictate that: (1) Nuclear disarmament proponents are really talking about stripping the "free West" of "defensive nuclear capability" and re-enacting the Lord Chamberlain scenario just prior to World War II. (2) The Russian "threat" is all pervasive and especially apparent in its manipulation of the western peace movement. (3) The complexity of the issue is beyond the scope of municipal government affairs and should be left to those more capable of understanding what's involved.

Strip those prevailing opinions of complacency, 19th century military philosophy, and unmitigated arrogance and this is what you have ... empty words ... dangerous words ... irresponsible words that are not supported by facts, that are based more on myth than the "peacenick credo" they condescend to address.

If the west unilaterally eliminated its nuclear garrison it would by default remove the ongoing poker bluff that is remarkably tagged MAD (Mutually Applied Destruction) ... i.e. wipe out my city and I'll wipe out yours; scintar west Germany and we'll torch the Ukraine; vaporize North America and we'll make sure there's not a red-commie left to toss a vodka back ever again. Your bet.

Conceived in sandlot crises where the stakes are letting Joey be captain or he'll take his ball home, and the game will be over for everyone, MAD strategy has adapted the "game" to a way of life, and given the responsibility for the outcome to a handful of individuals. Consider, however, SANE (Suggested Alternative for Negotiating an Escape) which is my acronym for a proposal by Senator William Cohen of Maine that would see the destruction of two nuclear missiles for every new one deployed. A nuclear "build down". If even just a unilateral western procedure, the "build down" would show commitment to negotiate, and a sincere elimination of any thought of "first strike" philosophy. For those still mired in the concept of a nuclear "response" as a deterrent, we could ask, "Just how many of those warheads do you really need? How many times do you want to potentially remove Moscow from the map before you're happy?" SANE would still leave a "response" capability but most importantly it would allow the flexibility to explore more avenues than just the dead-end certainty of a global melt-down.

The so called Russian "threat" is in my opinion far behind the threat of Warrior Kings. In defiance of the law that states that Congress is the body which decides if the USA will go to war, the documented fact of the past two centuries is that American Presidents have used armed force on their own initiative more than 200 times. The pretense of such flagrant violation of democratic process is always of course that such actions are in the public interest, and that debate of such actions must wait until the crisis has cooled. Pollywog-piddle! It's going to take a few hundred thousand years for things to "cool down" if some cowboy President decides to pre-empt the voice of the people and debate the issue after he pushes a few red buttons in the name of justice, freedom, mom and apple pie. Assuming moss and bacteria are up to a debate.

Which brings me to my main concern. Who dares at County Council to tell me my life is too complex an issue and I should let the experts decide how it will be lived? If you tell me that, you subvert the intentions and aspirations of those of us that do care what happens and have done something about it. We elected you to represent us. Not pass the buck on up the ladder to the level at which we become mere numbers in a MAD world. You know us. Tell the people up there you know us and we want some sanity in their decisions. Or go home, and let others who know us carry the word.

Gary Kenney,
Blairhampton.

Editor:

It is unfortunate that the vote by the county council on the peace initiative was negative.

The vote does not purport to be a pragmatic action, but merely a show of the feelings of the community.

To say 'no' to nuclear weapons merely indicates to the government that people here in Canada want at least to be able to express their opinions on a subject that, in essence, can determine their future fate.

The council may feel they are being practical, but in essence they are being silent, when silence can be interpreted by our legislators as acceptance of future suicide.

H. M. Collins,
Gooderham.

Turning the corner and reaching the end of the downtown sidewalk construction, Vern Witter and Terry Sutherland lay the final bricks at the corner of Main Street and Milne Street. With the sidewalks on both sides of Main Street now done, except for the section from the Rockcliffe Tavern to Sandy White Woollens, work will begin soon on repairing the broken pavement along the edge.

Disappointed in vote

Editor:

We were disappointed to note that county council did not support the request made by "People for Peace" for this county to become a nuclear weapons free zone.

Although possible placement of nuclear weapons in this county is not an immediate threat, and although we know also that in the case of a nuclear war neither Russia nor the United States would avoid destruction of this county simply because we were a "nuclear weapons-free zone", this vote in favour was an important grain of sand on the beach of a united lobby directed toward our Federal Government. It was a display of public sentiment and would have contributed toward the now-successful anti-nuclear weapons lobby. The Ottawa Government has indeed responded to the voice of the Canadian people and our Prime Minister has embarked on a mission of people to Europe, Russia and the United States.

There is no guarantee that nuclear war will not occur. The sophisticated technology involved negates their strength as a deterrent. If holocaust does not occur by calculation it will occur by accident.

The only faint glimmer of hope lies in the faith of a united people that the brotherhood of man will successfully join together for the salvation of man. As human beings all men must fight together for the survival of this planet.

A recent survey in Toronto of school children showed their 2 most prominent fears to be nuclear war and pollution.

We owe it to the children to endeavour to rid the world of these anxieties so that they are free to live and grow in a healthy and positive environment.

To county council we say "we will return".

Thank you to the councillors whose votes were favourable.

A clear message

Editor:

On behalf of Louise Watson and the "People For Peace", Haliburton County, I would like to personally thank those councillors who voted in favour of the resolution to make Haliburton County a nuclear free zone.

This resolution, if passed, would have given a clear message to our government that we in this county are against nuclear weapons on our soil.

Get on with bridge work

Editor's note: The following is an open letter to the municipal council of Anson, Hindon and Minden from a Canning Lake property owner.

Subject: Ingoldsby Bridge.

I hope that this will represent at least one voice from the silent majority of residents who want to see the old Ingoldsby bridge replaced.

It's structural strength is questionable and the one lane traffic harks back to the horse and buggy days. Surely we should not have to wait for a fatal accident here to point up the traffic hazard that presently exists.

Many statements have been made regarding under bridge clearances, water flow, water depth and even danger of dredging in the presence of a submarine hydro cable. Not all of these statements have been entirely true.

Accompanied by a civil engineer, we took many measurements based on both high and low water levels, and judged that lowering the underside of the bridge by the proposed 1 ft., 8 inches should not interfere with the passage of any boats presently berthed on Canning Lake. The water depth in the channel under the bridge is already greater than the depth of water in the entrance to Canning Lake. In other words if there is insufficient water depth under the bridge for some boats then they will not be able to navigate the entrance to Canning Lake.

I have travelled this water route all my life even when it was spanned by the previous wooden bridges and I see no harm in reducing the clearance by the amount mentioned previously.

Let us all stop this senseless quibbling over the reduced clearance and get on with the plans and construction and not escalate the construction costs any further.

Yours for progress and safety.

Morgan R. Loucks,
Canning Lake.

from the chamber

The new board of directors of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce met, for the first time, Monday, to form their various working committees and to begin to formulate ideas that will eventually become policy in the upcoming year. This year we hope to re-structure and re-organize the Chamber so that it will better reflect the wants and needs of the members. We invite input from everyone in the County, members or not. Please take the time to write down what you think the Chamber should be doing, or should be doing more of and mail it to "The Manager", Box 147, Minden. K0M 2K0.

We are still looking for a full-time Chamber Manager. All interested parties are asked to send a resume with salary expectations to "The Selection Committee", Box 147, Minden. K0M 2K0.

Teachers' organization presents concerns

The problems created by government restraint on wages, improving conditions in schools and the amalgamation of the two groups representing public school teachers in Ontario, were three of the main items of concern mentioned by the Vice President of the Ontario Public School Teacher's Federation. Mary Hill visited Haliburton County Tuesday (October 18) to talk with individual members and address a regular meeting of the local federation.

Leading the list of her federation's concerns were the controls placed on public sector employees last year. She said the group was awaiting the outcome of a judicial review which would test the validity of the controls imposed by the province on its employees. (A decision in that review was announced earlier this week, but at this writing it was uncertain what impact it would have on the teacher's concerns.)

She noted that the action of the provincial government left the teacher with a "take it or leave it" situation in which other aspects of their contracts were non-negotiable. She noted that class size and other items of concern to teachers could not be addressed because of the restrictions placed on bargaining by the province. She said the teachers were ready to use their negotiating strength to bring about improvements to the education system.

Gareth Kellett, spokesman for the local federation, noted that relations with the local school board had been good. "We are most fortunate here," he commented, "the board has been willing to deal with things like class size and other areas of concern. We've found them most co-operative."

Hill suggested that the fact that the local board served a smaller community meant it was more responsive to the needs of students, teachers and parents.

The federation is also wondering, according to Mary Hill, "Where is education in Ontario going?" She described the current Minister of Education, Bette Stephenson as being "active", but wondered where she was leading the education system.

Finally, in addressing the matter of separate male and female teachers' federations at the elementary school level, Hill said her group is still wondering on amalgamation, but the matter is not any closer to being resolved.

Hill, who is vice president of what was the organization representing the men teachers in the province, suggested that the women's section continues to find support based on its representation of women's concerns. "We are interested in ensuring women reach positions of responsibility within the school system as well," she commented. However, she suggested that splitting the matter into two camps based on gender was not the way to resolve it.

Voluntary female members of the Ontario Public School Teachers Federation is expected to grow from 800 to 1000 this year. "By offering a single voice to government we can make a solid representation to government," she commented.

Hill's speech to the local group Tuesday evening was to be on co-operation between the various groups representing teachers in Ontario.

Kickers claim Kawartha cup

The Senior HHSS Redmen Soccer team clinched the Kawartha East championship by defeating Fenelon Falls 2-0 in a lengthy rain-soaked contest on Thursday afternoon.

The Redmen held a slight advantage in the first half of regulation play but were unable to score. In the second half a high shot by the Redmen appeared to have gone through the net but the goal was not allowed.

As the playing conditions worsened due to the driving rain, neither team was able to mount a co-ordinated attack.

Regulation play ended with the teams tied at 0-0.

Neither team was able to break the stalemate through two overtime periods so 5 players from each team were chosen by the coaches for a shootout.

Jeff Smith began the one on one shootout by scoring the first goal of the game.

Fenelon Falls missed on their shot as did the Redmen on their second shot. Andrew Shapiera then made an almost impossible save deflecting a shot past the post to keep the Redmen ahead.

After both teams missed their third shot, Scooter Burgess booted in the Redmen's second goal. Andrew Shapiera blocked the next shot putting the game out of reach of the Fenelon team who conceded the game.

It's always been a good idea. Now it's the law.

On Nov. 1, 1983 toddlers come under the law which requires everyone from newborns to senior citizens to be properly restrained when travelling in a car.

For children this means:

- Infants, up to 9 kilograms (20 pounds) must be properly secured in a rear-facing car seat;
- Toddlers, 9-18 kilograms (20 to 40 pounds), must be in a front-facing car seat in their parents' or guardian's car; otherwise they must be secured by a lap belt;
- Preschoolers, 18-23 kilograms (40 to 50 pounds), must be secured by a lap belt.
- Older children must use the full seat belt assembly.

Buckle them in.

Pee Wee

The Minden Pee Wees soundly defeated Humphrey in a game played Saturday at the Minden arena. Final score was 10 - 2.

Scott Russell led the scoring for Minden with three goals, one of which was unassisted. Russell also assisted on two other tallies. Greg Smith, Joey Boyle and Sheldon Stevenson each scored a pair of goals and assisted on another. David Lee added a single and two assists. Also picking up assists in the game were Kent Taylor with two and singles from Robie Ackersblade and Darren Sawyer.

Chris Holliday-Rhodes was in nets for the Minden squad.

Midgets

Tuesday, Bancroft at Haliburton, the team played two fine periods of hockey. In the third period they faded and in the end needed a last minute goal to salvage a tie.

First period scoring: Mike MacNaull unassisted; Ian Cooper from Chris LaPorte and Jeff Howe; Mike MacNaull unassisted; Tran LaRue from Mike MacNaull. Bancroft scoring one.

Second period scoring: Greg Newell from Mike MacNaull; Jeff Howe from Len Johnston; Dennis McKee from Tran LaRue. It was even hockey as Bancroft also scored three.

Third period scoring: Bancroft scored four, to go ahead, until a last minute goal by Len Johnston from Jeff Howe and Ian Cooper produced the tie of 8 all.

Thursday, Haliburton at Bancroft, saw the boys take a quick two goal lead. Mike MacNaull from Chris LaPorte; Jeff Howe from Len Johnston.

Second period was all Bancroft, as they popped four, while we took possession of the sin bin.

Third period, Bancroft added three more, while our lone tally came from Tran LaRue, assisted by Cory McKnight. The bad box was again stuffed with blue. The final score: Bancroft 7, Haliburton 3.

Lesson learned. You can't skate 3 to 7 all night, which we all knew!

Saturday Gravenhurst at Minden, saw a fast first period of scoreless hockey.

Second period saw Gravenhurst slip 3 past us.

Third period was another saw-off with a goal each - Chris LaPorte scoring from Mike MacNaull. Final, Gravenhurst 4, Haliburton 1.

All in all a good week to forget!

Huskies meet tougher opposition

The Haliburton Northernways Huskies came up with a tie and a loss after two evenly matched games played on the weekend.

The Huskies had to overcome a 3 goal deficit to gain a tie in Saturday night's contests against the Oro 77's.

Dave Nicholls started the scoring on a slapshot from 25 feet out. Oro tied the game 5 minutes later on a power play goal.

Captain Scott Arbuthnot popped in the Huskies' second goal on a power play to end the first period.

Halfway through the second period Oro evened the score when they connected on a hard slapshot from point blank range.

After failing to score during a power play Oro slipped one past Colin Newell then scored again on a screened shot.

The Huskies came storming back at the beginning of the third period closing the gap on a goal by John McKelvey. They continued putting on the pressure but Oro broke away, picked up a loose puck in front of the Huskie net and scored. The 77's added one more to pull ahead 6-3.

After a series of end to end rushes by both clubs, Boomer Stamp connected for the Huskies after a slick passing play. With the man advantage the Huskies controlled the play until Scott Arbuthnot added his second goal of the night. Then Boomer Stamp evened the score at 6 all banging in a shot during a goalmouth scramble.

Dave Nicholls' assist was his fourth of the game.

There were few penalties in the game, a factor which proved important since four of the goals were scored on power plays, including Haliburton's last two goals.

Sunday game

A second period shutout sealed the fate of the Huskies as they were defeated 5-3 in Gravenhurst on Sunday.

Scott Arbuthnot put the Huskies ahead 1-0 two minutes after the game began on a power play goal. The score remained the same until Gravenhurst knocked in three unanswered goals in the second period. Gravenhurst increased their lead adding two more goals in the third period.

The Huskies narrowed the gap when Greg Newell and Bernie Upton scored late in the game but time ran out for the Huskies.

Greg Newell was the top scorer for the Haliburton team in the losing cause.

The Northernways Huskies travel to Midland on Friday then play at home on Saturday night.

Juniors are champs

The HHSS Redmen football teams overwhelmed their opponents in Thursday's games in Haliburton.

The junior Redmen who remain undefeated this season clinched the Kawartha West Championship by beating the Fenslon Falls Falcons 31-6.

The juniors jumped ahead after a 75 yard touchdown run by Mike McNaull early in the second quarter. The Falcons evened the score before the half.

Early in the third quarter Brad Archer pounced on a loose ball and on the next play Mike McNaull ran the ball 10 yards for a touchdown.

The Redmen broke away in the 4th quarter. Paul Allore scored early after a 15 yard run then Mike McNaull ran for his third touchdown on a 35 yard sweep. Trevor Powers then combined with Andrew Burke for a 35 yard pass and run play to boost the score to 31-3.

The juniors play this Friday at 2 p.m. against Adam Scott for the Junior Kawartha District Championship.

The senior Redmen ended their season on a winning note defeating the I.E. Weldon Wildcats 34-7.

The Redmen recovered a missed snap early in the first quarter. Rob McLeod scored the first touchdown two plays later. The first quarter ended with the Redmen conceding a point on a field goal attempt.

In the second quarter the Redmen recovered a fumbled lateral pass which set up Jeff Bains for a touchdown. Terry Allore then picked up another fumbled like the glass of a greenhouse. Having debated the theory for a century, climatologists now agree it is right, as two authoritative American studies have just shown. If carbon dioxide increases enough, the ice sheets of Greenland and the west Antarctic could melt and raise sea level catastrophically. Halifax would have the climate of Miami, but most of it would be under water.

Though approaching this scenario with great caution, scientists at Environment Canada say it's very possible the mean annual temperature will rise one half degree by the year 2000 in Ontario and be accompanied by a trend to dryer weather. This change alone, resulting from a doubling in atmospheric carbon dioxide, would extend our southern growing season north as far as James Bay, shift our agricultural crops, lower water levels in the great lakes, and require changes in our building code, to name a few effects.

There are other factors which vary the buildup of carbon dioxide or offset its effects and complicate prediction. Trees and plants capture and store carbon dioxide. Weathering converts silicate rocks to carbonates which erosion carries to the sea. The oceans absorb and release carbon dioxide and heat in quantity, but over very long time periods. Gases such as freon and methane contribute to the greenhouse effect. On the other hand, volcanoes spew vast quantities of ash into the atmosphere which can significantly reduce incoming solar energy.

Even so remaining disagreement among scientists boils down to whether we take action to control carbon dioxide emissions now or in the 1990's. So the greenhouse effect is another strong argument for a realistic, diverse energy program and responsible emission controls which the acid rain phenomena has already shown are required.

I think I'd rather save the money for a real greenhouse, than have one brought to me courtesy of unchecked pollution.

Heming, Winans squash champs

The Highland Squash Club hosted a novice zone invitational tournament during the weekend. Some 28 players, evenly split between the men's and ladies' division, took part in the two day event.

Steve Heming of Haliburton was the men's champion. He defeated Paul Orrick of Huntsville in the final by a 3 - 2 score.

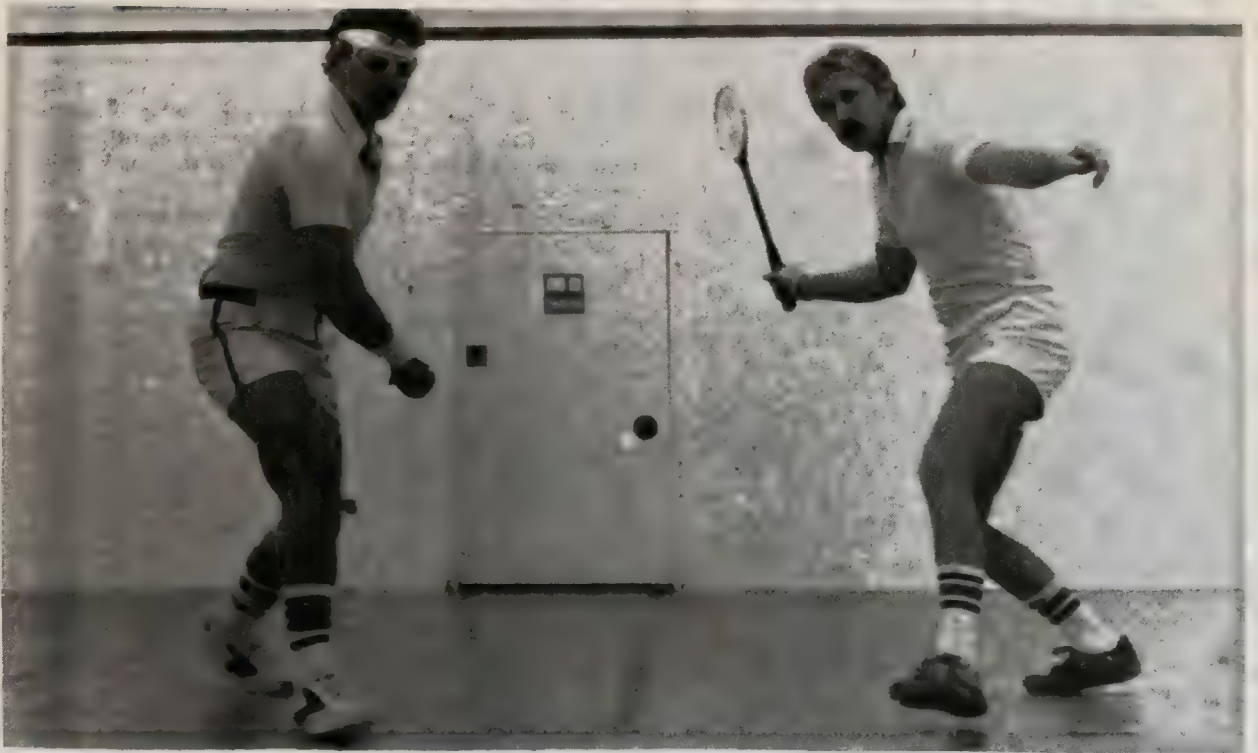

In the women's division, Lyn Winans, also of Haliburton, defeated Jane Petman of Huntsville. The final score was 3 - 2.

Both championship playoffs were extremely close with all players providing excellent competition.

Winners of the consolation round were: ladies, Barb Pierce, who defeated Wendy Gough three games to nil. Both players were from Haliburton. In the men's consolation round Eric Dunn of Haliburton was the winner, defeating Roy Scott, also of Haliburton, three games to none.

Participants from the Highlands, Peterborough and Huntsville took part in the competition.

Steve Heming, right, of Haliburton, defeated Paul Orrick 3-2 in an exciting men's final at the Highlands Squash Club on Saturday.

Education survey forms ready

The preparation of questionnaires in the Co-Operative Evaluation and Development of School Systems (CEDSS) is now completed by the committees established by the Haliburton County School Board. The committees established to examine a number of areas in the school system including the teaching of English from Kindergarten to Grade 13; the teaching of mathematics at the intermediate level, grades 7 - 10; the role of the teacher and principal; and the role of the director of education.

Teacher co-ordinator of the project, Doug Mitchell noted that the surveys will be distributed during the November to students, parents, teachers, administrators and board members. He has invited those interested in taking part in this review process by responding to a questionnaire to contact the nearest school for a copy. The questionnaires will be distributed to a certain number of individuals, but others wishing to express their concerns, are invited to take part.

The tabulation of the results will take place later this month. A report of the findings is expected to be prepared for January when a team from the Ministry of Education will examine the findings and carry out its own evaluation.

Trading land idea suggested

Municipalities which are willing to sell the 66 foot shore allowance should consider trading that land for a road right of way behind the property in question rather than accepting cash. The suggestion was made by ratepayer Jim Davis as he addressed the October 27 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Speaking in reaction to a by-law which announced the closing of shore allowances fronting on Bat Lake, Davis suggested that the municipality could be gaining more by seeking a trade rather than a cash settlement.

"For the amount of money the municipality makes on these transactions, it could be more valuable for the township to obtain a 66 foot right of way at the rear of the property," Davis said.

Reeve Lyle McKnight noted that the township was acting under provincial regulations in selling shore allowances. He said he wasn't sure if the provincial regulations would permit the trade. He also suggested the township would want to make sure the land being traded was suitable for road use.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas said the trading idea might be worth considering in some instances, but he too questioned whether the provincial statutes, under which the township was acting, would allow such a trade.

Councillor Gary Kenney said the suggestion might lead to a discriminatory policy in which the township would be willing to trade property in some instances but not in others.

The matter was referred to the planning board for further consideration. The by-law under which Davis had brought the matter to the council's attention for consideration was later given first and second reading. Third reading was withheld pending a report from the planning board.

Council briefs

The following are items from the October 27 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Sewer extension

Plans for an extension of the water and sewer services were announced at the meeting. The services will be extended from South Water Street southward to the OPP office. The services are being installed to service Dixie Lee Restaurant; Sweet Dreams Ice Cream Store and the police office. The individual connecting to the service will be responsible for the cost of the extension. The installation will be at the back of the properties mentioned.

Bell replies

Bell Canada will not be sending directory assistance charge exemption forms to Anson, Hindon and Minden for distribution to area residents who require them. In a letter to the township, a representative of Bell said these forms are available through the Bell business office which can be reached by phone without charge. The representative also told the council that instructions regarding the exemption forms are printed in the front pages of the telephone directory.

Mini-fair

The mini-fair building, which was located beside the municipal office, is being moved to the Library-Cultural Centre. The move was agreed to after a letter from the curator at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery wrote to the council requesting it be relocated there.

Grace Turton suggested the structure could be used for craft fairs, outdoor displays, craft work area and other activities association with the gallery.

Councillor Gary Kenney said he was reluctant to agree to the move immediately since he was waiting to hear from the Agricultural Society about any need they might have for the structure. Kenney said the Society had been approached about using the building but no reply had been received as of Thursday. He said he felt it was only fair to give them a chance to respond.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas noted that the art gallery representative had offered the council a concrete proposal for the building and the council should act on it. He noted that "once the snow flies we won't be able to relocate it."

With Kenney voting against, the motion to move the structure was approved. Dismantling of the building began this week.

Christmas lights

A plan to decorate the river banks in Minden with Christmas lights was unveiled by Councillor Gary Kenney. He told the meeting that the Business Improvement Area (BIA) would like to see $5000 spent on decorative lighting each year for the next few years.

He said the plan is to start at the bridge and each year add more lights to the display until all the trees along the banks of the river are decorated. Kenney suggested there could be 500 to 1000 lights in each tree.

Kenney said the possibility of placing poles on either side of the bridge to hold banners is being investigated.

Funding for the work will be taken from the $20,000 allotment being provided for core area improvements each year by the municipality.

Park grant

A $19,250 grant has been given to the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden for improvements along the Gull River. The grant announced recently by the Ministry of Natural Resources under the Parks Assistance Act.

The grant must be matched, on a 50-50 basis by the township.

It was pointed out at the October 27 meeting of the municipal council that the township had been turned down for a similar grant last year.

The money is to be used to stabilize the shoreline of the the council's attention for extension of the park along the riverbank. Included in future plans are the creation of hiking and cycling trails along the river.

Mishap follows on heels of mishap

A single car accident in Lutterworth Township developed into a two car mishap shortly after it occurred Friday afternoon.

Tracy Nesbitt, 17, of Minden was travelling along the Swinson Road when he swerved to miss a dog on the roadway. His vehicle left the road and struck a tree stump causing $2000 damage.

A short time later a truck driven by Charles Walker, 22, of Minden rounded a curve and crashed into the Nesbitt vehicle causing an additional $300 damage. Walker's truck also sustained $300 damage.

Nesbitt and a passenger, 19 year old Brett Porter of Minden were taken to Minden Red Cross Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

The accident was investigated by Constable Dave MacMartin.

Revolver missing
An OPP investigation is continuing into the disappearance of a service revolver belonging to a member of the local detachment.

The revolver was discovered missing after the officer returned from a holiday.

A team of OPP scuba divers searched the Gull River Friday in hopes of locating the missing firearm. It was felt that the thief may have thrown the gun into the river. However, the revolver was not located.

As well a number of students, who visited the officer's home during his absence have been interviewed but no leads to the weapon's whereabouts were uncovered.

The investigation continues.

Little Theatre ready for play

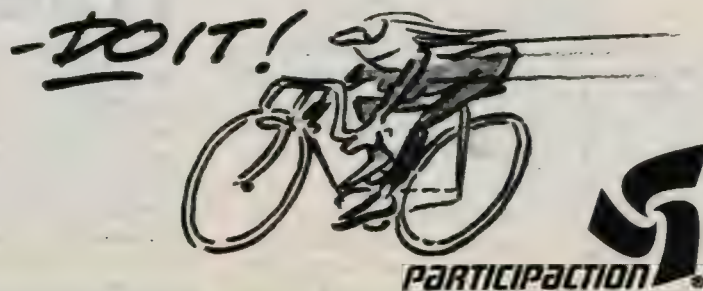

On November 17, 18 and 19, The Highlands Little Theatre of Haliburton is pleased to present Neil Simon's play "Prisoner of Second Avenue".

Mel Edison is a well-paid executive of a large New York company which has suddenly hit the skids and started to pare the payroll. Anxiety doesn't help. Mel, too, gets the axe. His wife takes a job to tide them over, then she too is sacked. As if this weren't enough, Mel is fighting a losing battle with the very environs of life. Polluted air is killing everything that grows on his terrace; the walls of his high-rise apartment are paper thin, so that the private life of a pair of German stewardesses next door are open books to him; the apartment is burgled; and his psychiatrist dies with $23,000 of his money. Mel does the only thing left for him to do; he has a nervous breakdown.

It is on recovery that we come to esteem him all the more. For Mel and his wife and people like them have the resilience, the grit to survive. All this is presented in humorous terms and without losing sight of its basic seriousness, it is treated with hearty but sympathetic humour.

This play is not recommended as suitable for young children.

Looking back

Things were not looking very good for the Canadian Land and Emigration Company as the directors met for the twenty-third annual meeting April 28, 1876, "in a London (England) tavern." Discussion at the table indicated that the extension of the railway into Haliburton County would be of benefit to the company, however the matter of financing the venture seemed to create an insurmountable obstacle. The report of that meeting follows:

In submitting their Twenty-third Report to the Shareholders of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company, the Directors have to announce that the return of Capital to the Shareholders of 6d. per share recommended at the last Annual General Meeting, amounting to £510.12s.6d. has been carried out. This further sum reduces the paid-up Capital to three pounds per share.

Your Board have to express their sincere regret that the substantial improvement which they were led to look for in the affairs of the Company has not been realized, but that, on the contrary, the serious stagnation which continues to depress the timber trade has diminished the receipts from timber sales during the past year by no less a sum than £1,898. The utmost endeavours of the Board have been used to stimulate activity on the part of the lumbermen, but these declare their inability to clear off stocks now on hand and bring fresh lumber to market except at ruinous loss...

This state of things also acts injuriously in other respects upon our townships where the settlers, owing to the reduced establishments of the lumbermen, are deprived of the market to which they have been accustomed to look for the disposal of their produce. Under these circumstances the land sales have realized only £771, being £98 less than last year.

The attention of the shareholders must be called to the fact that the annual instalments received on account of the Township of Longford, and which have formed the chief item in our land sales of late years, will now cease the final payment having been made in 1875. It may be hoped that the nearer approach of railway communication will effect an improvement.

The negotiations for the purchase of your property by the Victoria Railway company have not been renewed during the past year. That Company, has, however, just obtained a grant from the Dominion Government of $33,000 out of the Railway appropriation for the purpose of its extension to Kinmount, a distance of about 20 miles from Haliburton, to which place it will afford the readiest means of access. The latest reports received from the Manager give an almost positive assurance that the rails will be laid for traffic to Kinmount in the course of the ensuing summer.

It, therefore, now becomes the duty of your Board to consider on what terms it may be possible to procure an extension to Haliburton. We may fairly ask that we should not by reason of our proprietary being English, be exposed to any exceptional disadvantages in comparison with favours granted to other districts, and that the amount of money spent by us in the townships, and the benefit of our expenditure on roads, mills &c from which we have had so little return, should be set to our credit. The remarks of the Provincial Secretary, Mr. Wood, as to this may be noted: he said, "That when the Victoria Road reached Kinmount it would be entitled to receive aid as a colonization road, provided the English Land Company granted a reasonable bonus. The road would pass some thirty miles through the Company's lands, would add several hundred thousand dollars to the value of these lands, and it was but fair to demand from them that reasonable aid."

Contemporaneously with the great falling off in the receipts the Board regret to say that, from circumstances over which they had no control, the taxation of their property has largely increased, having risen from £735 in 1874 to £1,017 in 1875. Of this nearly £100 is raised on the County Assessment for railway purposes, and we are now taxed for the northern townships, not hitherto included in the assessment.

In view of such adverse circumstances in the past and the uncertainties of the year on which we are now entering, your Directors regret that they do not feel justified in recommending any return being made to the Shareholders on the present occasion, while the affairs of the Company are in a state of transition.

Your Board have lost no opportunity of urging upon their officers in Canada the necessity of the closest economy in the conduct of the Company's affairs. They are glad to be able to report that the general expenditure, not including taxation in Canada, notwithstanding the increase in the Manager's salary, the claim for which it was impossible for them reasonably to resist has been reduced from £1,144 to £1,022. The utmost endeavours of your Board will be used to effect still further reductions under this head.

In accordance with the Articles of Association, Mr. H. E. Montgomerie retires from the Board by rotation, but being eligible offers himself for re-election.

The Auditors, Messrs Fry and Lovelock, also offer themselves for re-election.

By Order, J. W. Collins, Secretary.

Marie Chambers, daughter of Audrey and Frank Chambers and Christopher Hodgson, son of Barbara and J. Douglas Hodgson, were married on Saturday, August 27th, 1983 at St. George's Anglican Church, Haliburton. Rev. John Phillips officiated at the ceremony. Maid of Honour was Marilyn Arsenault, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Randi Irvine and Jean Allcorn, cousins of the bride and Cindy Hicks, friend of the bride. Best man was Andrew Hodgson, brother of the groom. Ushers were Jamie Hodgson, cousin of the groom, Brent Devolin and Ed Roberts, friends of the groom.

An interesting service in the chapel Sunday night, although the Thompson's were not there, Mary Burgess read the lesson and also offered prayer, and Rev. John took over from there. Now Rev. always has something up his sleeve something so interesting you just couldn't leave. When he had no music to play he had a tape of a choir singing from very far away. Across from old England which is very far, singing "Onward Christian Soldiers marching as to War". We are pleased to hear from Rev. Brubacher from time to time, after a serious operation he is doing fine.

We have Joan Kernohan back after a week of holidays, different ones filled in for her while she was away. A word about a lady who works in the office on weekends or whenever she is needed. Her name is Ada Lewis, she looks after all our phone calls and if we owe her money she doesn't try to do us. She works so faithfully and keeps things up to date whether it is early or perhaps a little late.

Doris showed us three movies Monday night, "Land fall Asia", "Malign Lake" and then "The long haul men."

Tuesday morning, Lieutenant Buell of the Salvation Army, Haliburton held an interesting service in the chapel, Fred Ballard came the music to play. We thank you both for coming this fine October day.

My sister Pearl and daughter Ruby came and brought a lovely planted mum, they stayed for lunch with us and we were glad they had come.

To Herbert and Ada Shorter on their wedding anniversary: Which rolls around once more, and if we remember correctly the count is sixty four. We have stayed together all these many years, sharing joys as well as your tears, with a fine son and daughter you are truly blessed. All wishing you continued happiness here at Hyland Crest.

Tuesday night Fred Ballard came and played music for an hour or so. I helped him with harmonica until I had to go.

Wednesday afternoon about two of the clock, who should come calling but Henry and Muriel Copp. They were our good neighbours when we lived down on the farm, away back when, we were so glad to see them and hope they will come again. Thursday afternoon the tea party was served by a group from Lutterworth Estates and the way they treated us was just great. We had a party for those who had birthdays in October, Ruth Thompson led us in a sing song and we all stayed sober.

Thursday night the Kinsmen members came to call the Bingo game, sorry this week I didn't get their names, some of the players said they sure did fine Millie Wood said she won six bingos but Mary Oliver won nine.

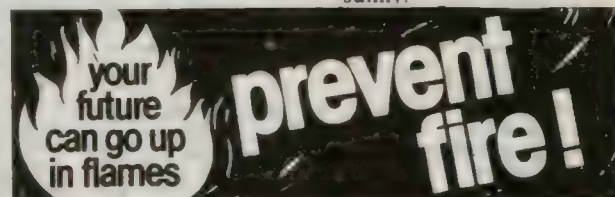

The sympathy of all here goes to the family and relatives of the late Fred Prentice. He will be sadly missed around Maple Lake. Mrs. Shuyler is back from hospital I should tell you in this letter, not feeling very spry, we hope she'll soon feel better.

Friday afternoon was sing song time again, we had company and we thought we wouldn't make it, we try to join them if we can and got there just in time to hear some humorous rhymes. October is drawing to a close, what will happen next month only the good Lord knows. On weekends here at Hyland Crest, some of the folks go out to visit relatives and some have special guests. Our girls are planning a Fun Day Monday for Hallowe'en, you will see some of the Cutest Costumes you have ever seen.

Take Time To Live
Give freely of your time my friend
It's more precious far than money
A kindly word a helping hand
Can change dark skies to sunny.

Hi kids!

Here is another puzzle for you. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Now with the letters left over - make them into a word.

Q: What do you call a skeleton that talks all the time?

A: A Jawbone.

Q: Why does a vampire brush its teeth?

A: To prevent bat-breath.

Q: What does a werewolf put on at the beach?

A: Moon-tan lotion.

Q: What kind of mistakes do ghosts make?

A: Boo - boos.

Q: How do you keep a monster from smelling?

A: Cut off his nose?

Q: Where was Count Dracula when the lights went out?

A: In the dark.

around the county town

by Yvonne Guida

As Yvonne Guida is still confined to hospital, the column this week will be rather sparse. We, at The Times, wish her a speedy recovery and hope she will be back with us very soon.

Many Hallowe'en parties were attended this weekend and we hear some of the costumes had to be seen to be believed. The annual Minor Hockey Dance and the annual party at one of the local taverns were well-attended and successful once again.

Tonight (Monday) we will be aware of many little witches, goblins and ghosties. Hallowe'en is such a wonderful time for youngsters. Hope they have a safe and happy one.

Recent visitors with Florence and Phil Robinson were Walter Barrett of Bradford and Minnie and Leslie Robinson of Lindsay.

Florence and Phil Robinson visited on Tuesday night with Mrs. Noble Dunn in Lindsay.

Mrs. Lillian Porter of Minden spent the weekend in Oshawa with her son Bill Porter and his family. They had a nice visit and Lil reports they had a marvelous shopping spree.

Neighbours and friends gathered Saturday at Club 35 to help celebrate the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Bill and Althea Gartshore. May we add our congratulations to the happy couple and wish them many, many more.

Patrons and prospective members of Minden Library will be happy to hear they are open longer in the evenings. The hours now are Monday through Saturday 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings 7:30 to 9 p.m. Handy for students looking for project material and for those of us who just enjoy browsing and choosing our reading materials.

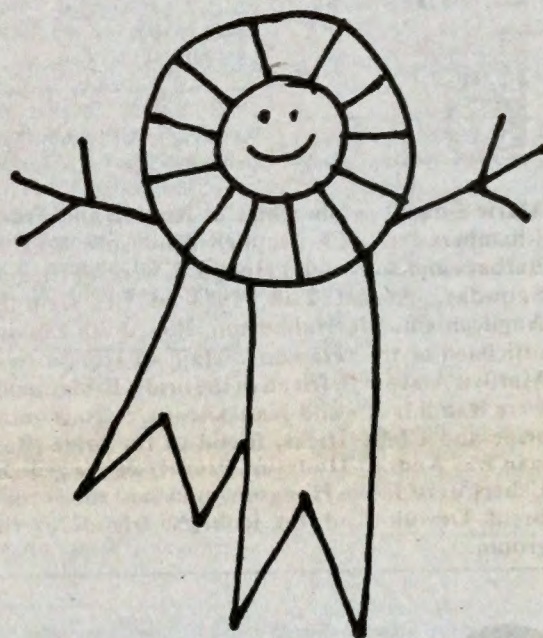

Winners of the weekly card party held at St. Paul's last week were: lone hands - May Wright, high - Jack Weekes, low - Corinne Nolter, cribbage - Cora Hewitt, high; Joyce Hewitt, low.

We were saddened to hear of the passing of Gary Lee. Our sincere sympathy to the Norman Lee family at this time.

Life

Wild soaring up to dizzy heights
Then down to deep despair
The raging torrent
Next the silent spring,
Upon deep billows rudely tossed
In grief's imagining.
Oh fie on him who dares to dream -
Clasp not they breaking heart,
Nor grasp at wisps of empty air
At murky shadows lying there
Vain spirit, do depart!
And turn thy back on dark desire
The thing that sets men's souls afire,
Oh rest not in that leafy bower
Eat not the grapes, their taste is sour.
But linger 'neath the knowledge tree,
Its verdant branches shadow thee,
Ah, smell with me the fragrant rose
Her lovely petals she'll disclose
And hide the nettles nestling there
To prick thy flesh, so have a care!
Oh hear the guardian of the night
His dusky softness brings delight
With all your demons we will sup
And quaff your bitter hemlock cup!
